

HISPANIC STUDIES

With more than 400 million Spanish speakers, Spanish is one of the most important languages in our globalized world.

Globalization is part of the reality of the twenty-first century and speaking Spanish has almost become a necessity. Thus, the study of the Spanish language and its culture is quite practical. Given the Hispanic presence in the United States and the proximity of our Spanish-speaking neighbors in Latin America, proficiency in Spanish is increasingly advantageous and even necessary for numerous professions and careers.

The Spanish area faculty members recognize the need to provide today's students with a broad education and perspective. To that end the Bachelor of Arts in Hispanic Studies offers three different majors as well as a minor. The three majors are:

1. Hispanic Studies
2. International Studies-Spanish concentration (see International Studies (<http://catalog.umd.umich.edu/undergraduate/college-arts-sciences-letters/international-studies/#majortext>))
3. Integrative Studies - Hispanic Studies as one of three concentrations

In addition to the major requirements, students must complete all CASL Degree Requirements (<http://catalog.umd.umich.edu/undergraduate/college-arts-sciences-letters/>).

Prerequisites to the Major

Students desiring to major in Hispanic Studies must successfully complete SPAN 202 or exhibit equivalent Spanish language proficiency.
